INTRODUCTION

Most of the astronomers in ancient history, in the middle ages and in Renaissance period were also astrologers. Most of them were maths professors and experts in Judicial Astrology; they were the ones who found out algebra, geometry, trigonometry and higher maths. They were the Judicial astrologers who accepted that astrology was the predecessor of astronomy and that the transits of the celestial bodies had influences on the life on Earth.

According to ancient scholars, astrology is the art of comprehending the humanity and getting in contact with the Divinity. In the third chapter of his Tetrabiblos, Ptolemy states that this discipline brings joy, happiness and satisfaction and also helps us understand the connection between the humane and divine things.

The Sicilian astrologer Maternus Firmicus, one of the most important figures of Hellenistic Astrology period, suggested learning and practicing astrology also feeds worshipping the Divine One. In his Mathesis, he argued that the heaven was divine and astrology encouraged divine worship. He supposed that the planets were the forces which caused our experiences on Earth. According to Firmicus a good astrologer should keep away from politics, avoid trouble, have a good and permanent reputation, should be honest, should not act greedily, should not humiliate those who have some faults but rather encourage them to behave well, should be very careful in his predictions and act ethically and should learn and understand astrology so well that he could give valid answers to any questions he receive.

Traditional Astrology's basic approach is based on the view that astrology is an art of prediction. It assumes that Cosmos is organized by the Divine Intellect (God) and the seven planets are the manifestation of God on Earth and the causes of the changes in cosmos. It is aware of the freedom of choice which we may define as Partial Will but makes us realise that we have made choices which were already made and the limitations that were determined by an Higher Mind, that is the Total Will (God's will).

Astrology is a Hermetic Science or a Divine Knowledge which helps us understand the operational laws of the sky or the cosmos through observation through a geocentric view. These are the laws which also rule us. Through realising the operating rules of the sky, we reach what is beyond it.

All analysis we make on each chart reminds us our place in the universe and the perfection of the operating system we are in. What we call as "accident" in astrology is not just a simple accident or coincidence but a planned and detailed plan. The word "accident" here indicates the people and the events that the native meets in his life, without his own will; it does not indicate a pure luck.

Traditional astrology techniques also give us the chance to make character analysis as well as Modern Astrology. It helps us interpret the native's spiritual attributes and his karmic purposes. But it is not limited with these. It sets up the rules for delineation and prediction. It predicts the general course of the life; first divides the life into long periods of time and then divides each part into smaller periods for a better analysis. In practice, it follows an approach from the whole to the part.

Medieval Astrology techniques give us the ability to describe the objective reality that the native experiences, to identify his primary motivations and predict all aspects of his life including marriage, children, profession, finances, health, family and spiritual tendencies. So, when we study on a chart we gain the ability to describe the objective realities of the native's life and to predict his life events.

THE ASCENDANT OR RISING SIGN

The starting point to a chart reading is the Ascendant (ASC) which is also called the Rising Sign. The ASC is the meeting point of the heaven and earth. The delineation of the chart starts with determining the native's primary motivation.

Leo Rising:

Matthew is a very talented organiser. On Matthew's side, he may be stubborn, conceit and arrogant. He is friendly, social, self-confident, self-assured and extroverted but he may also be arrogant, keen on status, wiseacre and likes being pampered. He may be a good manager due to his ability in decision making; he is a natural leader and organiser. Matthew takes other people under his auspices and very generous to them.

PRIMARY MOTIVATION: RULER OF THE ASC IN HOUSE

The ruler of the ASC and its House Placement: Planet which is the ruler of the ASC shows where and in which areas of life of the native wants to realise its primary motivations.

Ruler of Asc in 1st house

His personality, character and capabilities help him his purposes. He has an important advantage to realise his desires in life.

ELEMENTS OF THE SIGN ON THE ASCENDANT

The element of the sign at the cusp of the 1st house (ASC degree) is very important. It indicates where the native is focused.

FIRE (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius): If there is a fire sign at ASC, the native is active and energetic. He is in search of freedom and in need of power. He strives for gaining a reputation. He is extroverted, enthusiastic, adventurist, strong-willed, eager passionate and brave; he is also in need to manifest and prove himself. He is also a little bit impatient and bossy.

EARTH (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn): If an earth sign is at ASC, the native is in search of material and physical security. He is rational, reasonable, realistic, careful and conservative as nature. He is also hardworking. He is sometimes over materialistic, not quite sociable and introverted.

He likes learning as he is quite curious. He wants to know everything that takes place around.

GENDER OF THE SIGN ON THE ASCENDANT

The gender of the sign on Ascendant shows the characteristics that are dominant in the native's primary motivations. Masculine Signs (Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra, Sagittarius, Aquarius).

QUALITY OF THE SIGN ON THE ASCENDANT

To describe the behaviours of the native and to understand its tendencies, we have to analyse the quality of the sign on Ascendant. It is also better to identify which quality is emphasised in the whole chart. Cardinal Signs: (Aries, Cancer, Libra, Capricorn). Fixed (Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, Aquarius). Mutable (Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius, Pisces).

Ascendant is in Leo (Fixed)

Fixed signs are focused to the target but they concentrate more on themselves. They want others to come to them and their motions are centripetal; they think they are the center of the things and they focus on themselves. This is the risky part of fixed signs.

Matthew is patient and enduring. It is quite possible for him to achieve success as he acts in a sound and determined way. He is not fine with changing his environment as he is successful in keeping what he has. He completes his duties on time he promised. Matthew is quite stubborn and is not influenced by others easily. He is also quite decisive about completing what he has made up his mind to do. He is not very tolerant and he does not like risky ventures.

HOUSE RULERS IN OTHER HOUSES

The houses where the house rulers are placed have great importance both in traditional astrology and modern astrology because the other house where the house ruler is positioned (if the ruler is not in its own house) combines its issues with the issues of the house that this planet rules. House positions of the house rulers give us perfect information on in which area of life (in which house) the ruler attempts to satisfy its needs (if it is in the 2nd house through monetary issues, if it is in the 7th house through relationships, etc).

For instance, the house where the ruler of the 1st house is placed tells us the area that the native focuses on. It tells us about the life and habits of the native. For instance, the house where the ruler of the 2nd house is placed tells us the area of life that the native will earn money and satisfy his financial needs. If the ruler of the 2nd house is in the 7th house, the native earns his living through his spouse, relationships and partnerships; if it is in the 11th house, he will earn his money by the help of his friends and social circle; if it is in the 9th house, he will make attempts to earn money through journeys, foreigners or higher education.
